

EYES OF GERMANY ON MURDER TRIAL

Frau von Schoenebeck
Charged With Instigating
Mysterious Crime.

MIDNIGHT INTRUDER HUSBAND'S SLAYER

Little Garrison Town Where Case
Is Heard Invaded By Curious Throng.

BERLIN, June 6.—The trial of Frau von Schoenebeck-Weber, of exalted birth and high rank, on a charge of instigating the alleged murder of her husband, Major von Schoenebeck, on Christmas Day, 1907, by Captain von Goeben, began today at Allenstein, in East Germany.

Owing to the prominence of the prisoners and the peculiar circumstances surrounding the crime, the trial will probably be the most sensational, rivalling in some respects the recent trial of the Countess Tarnowska in Venice. Hundreds of visitors have flocked to the remote little garrison town to attend.

Weds Second Time.
A majority verdict of the jury of twelve will decide Frau Schoenebeck-Weber's fate.

A. O. Weber, the woman's present husband, is a well-known writer of Germany, and appeared by the side of his wife in court today.

The indictment gives the following version of the tragedy: Frau von Schoenebeck, thirty-three years old, and eighteen years younger than her husband, was happily married. She fell in love with Captain von Goeben and goaded him to fury by telling him of her husband's alleged mistreatment. Finally the wife urged von Goeben to kill her husband, and actually planned the murder.

Captain Confesses.

On Christmas Eve, 1907, Captain von Goeben left the Schoenebeck home, where he had been entertained at dinner, at 10 o'clock at night. He returned at midnight, crept through a window that had been left purposely unfastened, and shot the major, who was in bed.

Captain von Goeben has confessed his part in the crime, but Frau Schoenebeck-Weber denies that she was a party to it. She was arrested, but subsequently liberated on account of a lack of evidence. When liberated she assumed a false name, and married Weber. Her second arrest came as a result of complaints made in the Reichstag.

READY TO SELECT SITE FOR ALL SOULS'

Church Committee Said to Favor Lot on Sixteenth,
Between R and S.

The selection of a new site for All Souls' Church, which President Taft attends, will probably be made at a meeting of the building committee to be held the latter part of this week.

The committee has several locations under consideration, but has not as yet been able to reach a decision. James A. Sample, a member of the committee, said today that the new church would probably be located on Sixteenth street between K and U streets, but that the final decision would not be reached until another meeting of the full committee was held.

Among the locations which have been considered is the lot on Sixteenth street between R and S streets. This property has been favorably considered by several members of the committee and it is probable that this location will be decided upon.

Mr. Sample stated positively today that the church would not be located in Mt. Pleasant, as has been reported. He said that while a few of the members of the congregation favored the Mt. Pleasant site a majority were in favor of locating in the central part of the Northwest section.

There is about $300,000 available for the purchase of the property and the erection of the new edifice. Of this amount about $100,000 is expected to be obtained from the sale of the present building at Fourteenth and L streets.

ANGEL OF REGIMENT ENDS LONG CAREER

Civil War Nurse, Several Times
Captured, Dies At Age of Eighty Years.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 6.—Mrs. LeVina Streight, known since the civil war as the "Angel of the Fifty-first Indiana Regiment," died here yesterday. She was the widow of Gen. A. D. Streight, and was eighty years of age.

Mrs. Streight accompanied the regiment throughout the bloody war as nurse; was captured several times while acting as messenger between Generals Buell and Boyle in Tennessee, and had many thrilling adventures.

Her husband was one of the Union soldiers to escape from Libby prison through a tunnel.

ABERNATHY BOYS OFF FOR MONUMENTAL CITY

Bright and Early the Youthful Oklahomans Climb Onto Bronchos and Start Next Lap on Trip to New York.

Promptly at 6 o'clock this morning those two little firebrands from the plains of Oklahoma—Temple and Louis Abernathy, the six and nine-year-old sons of Marshal "Jack" Abernathy, of Frederick, Okla.—climbed upon the backs of their mustangs in front of the Raleigh Hotel, where they have been stopping, and began the journey to Baltimore, en route for New York, to see Colonel Roosevelt, and welcome him back to the Land of the Free.

A small crowd bade them farewell as they went up Twelfth street, thence to H street, and on toward the Monumental City, where they will spend the night. Each was dressed in a cowboy suit, and each was well equipped with weapons in the shape of toy pistols and tin awards.

Since they arrived in Washington a week ago last Saturday the youngsters have been the center of attraction, and their performance in making the long journey from their native State has attracted widespread comment. Temple, the younger, is hardly more than a baby.

Leaving Baltimore tomorrow morning the little fellows will make for Wilmington, thence to Trenton, N. J., and from there to Philadelphia. New York will be their destination, and after seeing the former President, they will return to papa and mamma by train. The two faithful horses will be shipped

BLACK TO DEMAND RECOUNT OF VOTES

Beaten By Dalzell By Fraud,
Is His Content-

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 6.—That a recount of the Republican Congressional primary vote will be demanded by Dr. Robert J. Black, who alleges that he won in his race for the nomination over John Dalzell, chairman of the House Rules Committee, was the statement made today by him.

According to Dalzell's manager, W. H. Coleman, Dalzell won by a majority of 402.

Charges of fraud are being made by Black, who declares that he does not believe "they will let him win." He says that his brother-in-law saw an election judge count five ballots for Dalzell that had been cast for himself.

Dalzell's fight is the closest in his twenty-two years of service in Congress, but he has returned to Washington fully satisfied as to his re-nomination.

Dalzell's fight to maintain his position was desperate and his managers threw down the Senatorial and legislative state of the Republican organization for the sake of their candidate. Although corporations in the Thirtieth Congressional District are alleged to have issued orders to their employees to vote for Black, reports show that the plan failed in many places as Black's vote was greater in towns where large manufacturing plants are located.

In Bradock, where the United States Steel Corporation has many plants, Dalzell got only a majority.

As a result of the knifing of the legislative ticket, the organization candidate for State Senator in the Forty-fourth district, J. M. Clark, was defeated. Returns today show that Senator George T. Oliver's forces also won a decisive victory over the William Flinn faction, only one Flinn man being elected.

FACTORY MATERIAL BULK OF IMPORTS

Bureau of Statistics Gives Figures on Character of Foreign Commerce.

Manufacturers' materials, according to the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor, now form practically four-fifths of the entire foreign commerce of the United States, their aggregate importation and exportation in the nine months ended with March, 1910, having been $1,567,000,000, or 88 per cent of the total of $1,770,000,000, representing the imports and domestic exports of the country.

Of this great amount of trade, $1,287,000,000 worth of commerce transacted by or on behalf of the manufacturing industries, imports supplied $828,000,000 and exports $1,025,000,000. This includes raw materials and articles ready for consumption.

It has also been shown that manufacturers form a decreasing proportion of the total imports and an increasing proportion of the total domestic exports of the United States.

Since 1870 it is shown that the increase in manufacturing and manufacturers' materials for export and import has been almost 200 per cent.

VISITORS ENTERTAINED.

Seventy German women, members of the Arbeiter Maennerchor, Baltimore, were entertained by the Germania Maennerchor of Washington last night at Bessler's Hotel.

$5,000,000 MEMORIAL TO LINCOLN IS PLAN

Prominent Citizens Will Meet Tonight to Organize Association.

The organization of an association which shall take immediate steps toward collecting funds for a $5,000,000 Lincoln memorial to be erected in this city, will be the purpose of the gathering to be held at the New Willard Hotel at 8 o'clock this evening. Among those expected to attend the meeting at the Willard are such prominent citizens as W. F. Gude, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Thomas Nelson Page, D. J. Callahan, secretary of the Washington Board of Trade; Gifford Pinchot, H. E. F. Macfarland, Senator Kilbuck of West Virginia, Senator Gallinger, Walter Stilson Hutchins, president of the Washington Humane Society, and others.

The Grand Army of the Republic already is unofficially pledged to the movement, many members of the Woman's Relief Corps are actively interested, and the daughters of the American Revolution, the best riders among the British bobbies, having been chosen to show that English soldiers are not the only ones who understand horsemanship.

RAILROAD VALUATION SUBJECT OF DEBATE

Gold Medal to Be Awarded Winner
In G. W. U. Contest.

The annual prize debate of George Washington University will be held this evening in University Hall at 8 o'clock, in which representatives of the Columbian and the Needham Debating Societies will take part. The question for debate is the physical valuation of interstate railways by the Federal Government.

F. R. Feldman and Oscar Thompson, both of Wisconsin, and S. W. Rogers of Arkansas, will uphold the affirmative, and F. E. Edgerton, of Nebraska, A. Cohen, of Wisconsin, and R. H. Binkesley, of California, will maintain the negative of the proposition.

A gold medal will be awarded to the speaker making the best presentation of his case.

INJURED FIRE CHIEF TO BE AT WORK SOON

James Keliher, Struck In Abdomen
By Stream of Water, Not Badly Hurt.

Battalion Chief James Keliher, who was injured about the abdomen by being hit with a stream of water during a fire at Pillsbury's hay and feed establishment in H street northeast, last week, will return to duty with in the next few days.

Chief Keliher was injured in a similar manner during a fire about a year ago, and the accident last week had a tendency to aggravate the old wounds. His injuries, while painful, are not considered serious.

DEATH OF EDWARD STOPS CEREMONIES

Ten Nations Represented In Con-

LONDON, June 6.—The international horse show, with more than 1,000 entries and $20,000 in prizes, opened at Olympia today. Colonel Roosevelt was to have presided at the opening, but on account of the death of King Edward all ceremonies were dispensed with.

The military horsemanship competition, for which $25,000 in prizes has been set aside, will be the leading event of the week. Ten nations, represented by 174 of their best riders, will compete in this event—121 Englishmen, 23 Frenchmen, 9 Belgians, 3 Americans, 3 Italians, 3 Norwegians, 2 Swedes, 3 Greeks, 3 Russians, and 3 Spaniards.

Americans will make a special effort to win prizes in the competitions for carriage horses, trotters, and hunters. In addition to the strictly bred American stock, Walter Winans, the millionaire breeder now living in England, has sent up 147 head from his establishment at Surbiton Park, Kent. Judge Moore, of New York, has brought sixty fine animals across, C. W. Watson twenty, E. M. Wetherbee eleven, J. W. Harrison a big string of hacks, A. G. Vanderbilt and Paul Sorg, coaching teams, and Miss Louisa Long, the lumber millionaire's daughter, a pet trotter all the way from Kansas City.

Vanderbilt, Moore, Sorg, and Winans will drive in the "millionaires' Marathon," otherwise known as the coaching Marathon, and the Corinthian Cup, of fourteen and seven miles, respectively.

OUTING POSTPONED BY SAENGERBUND

Because of rain the outing to Marshall Hall planned by the Saengerbund for yesterday was abandoned until some future date. In the meantime the same committee on arrangements will continue its task of planning a merry day for the singers.

At its next meeting the Saengerbund will discuss ways and means of entertaining a number of well-known composers and singers coming here from Vienna.

FREE HALL IS PROVIDED FOR SIMON'S SPEECHES

"Original Maryland Darkey Democrat" Will Praise Bay
State Political Idols for Next Twelve Months in District Jail.

For one year the lean, meek little figure of Simon Booker, "the only and original Maryland darkey Democrat," will be missed from his accustomed haunts. For one year his voice, which was wont to be heard in laudatory comment on his Bay State political idols, will be still in the land, because for that length of time Judge Pugh has sentenced Booker to be cloistered in the District Jail.

The charge upon which Simon was arrested was drunkenness, loud speaking, and blocking the sidewalk. The old man is a familiar figure at Police Court, and although an ardent church member, has been up many times before on the same and similar charges.

But three weeks ago Judge Pugh warned Simon that his next offense would be his last for a twelvemonth. On that occasion he left the courtroom determined to mend his ways. For three weeks he kept rigidly to the straight and narrow way, but yesterday the fires of righteous political patriotism burned a hole in Simon's resolution and a fall from grace resulted.

When arrested he was standing before the office of one of his lawyer acquaintances in the vicinity of the Police Court and his voice was thunderously reverberating through the streets and alleys.

"What business has we all to vote anyway?" he was beligerently inquiring, apropos the negro suffrage clause recently voted on in Maryland.

It was one of those dramatic questions that orators ask for effect and answer themselves; hence one whole year will elapse now before a waiting world will learn just what business "we all" have voting.

In the meantime if Simon has any electioneering to do he will do it without collecting much of a crowd or blocking the traffic.

Representatives Miles Pindexter (Rep. Wash.), who is in the thick of a hot campaign out home for the United States Senatorship, today threw down the gauntlet to his critics and declared his intention not to be "bossed" by any political machine in the event of his election to the upper house.

Pindexter's opponent in the Senatorship race has made an issue of party regularity, and attacked the insurgent Congressman for his "progressive" tendencies, declaring that if he were elected to the Senate he could not be depended upon to vote with the party.

"It is true," said Pindexter today, "that I have voted a number of times against the Cannon organization in the House, and also to amend certain bills which were prepared by the Administration. I am opposed to the entire Cannon machine, and do not consider I am bound by its orders."

"The proper guide as to party measures is the party conventions and those policies endorsed by the party at the polls."

"I claim it is the right and duty of Congressmen to use their own judgment in voting upon the various measures coming before Congress, and that no one can properly dictate to them to vote this way or that."

"If elected to the Senate I admit that I will pursue the same policy there."

GEORGE N. HOLLAND, MERCHANT, IS DEAD

Veteran Passes Away Early
Today After a Short Illness.

George N. Holland, for a number of years a prominent merchant in this city, died today, after a short illness. Mr. Holland had been engaged in the hardware business in Washington since the close of the civil war, and for several years had conducted a store at 1500 H street northeast.

Mr. Holland was born in Vermont in 1837, and at the opening of the civil war was appointed captain in the Eighth Vermont Regiment. During the engagements around New Orleans he secured the release of General Talliferro, of the Confederate army, who was imprisoned at New Orleans, for which act he was given credit for the rank of major, president of the Confederate States, providing for his immediate release in case of capture.

He is survived by one son, Calvin A. Holland, and two grandchildren, Calvin G. and Maude M. Holland. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.
